

GlobalChem 2020 is Now Cancelled

The American Chemistry Council takes the health and safety of its staff, members, and the general public seriously. We have been closely monitoring the coronavirus COVID-19 situation and have been taking the guidance of all local, federal, and international health authorities as we formulate our response to this rapidly evolving issue. With the current public information at hand, ACC leadership has cancelled the GlobalChem Conference & Exhibition scheduled April 6-8, 2020 at the Grand Hyatt Washington in Washington, DC.

These uncertain times have resulted in quite a few logistical items that need to be addressed. Those who have previously signed up for GlobalChem will receive a follow-up communication regarding registration refunds within the next few days. Please contact the Grand Hyatt directly to cancel your hotel reservations. ACC appreciates your patience and understanding. All other questions can be sent to online@americanchemistry.com or (202) 249-6121.

ACC holds GlobalChem to a high standard as the premier forum for information sharing in the chemicals management arena. The efforts made in shaping GlobalChem 2020's program has reinforced ACC's commitment to providing an event with a high level of value for the industry. As such, we are looking ahead to the late spring or early summer time frame to re-engage the hundreds of industry professionals, vendors, and government representatives that would benefit from GlobalChem. Rest assured that while the 2020 conference has been cancelled, we continue to explore all avenues in sharing the latest developments on the global management of chemicals.

GlobalChem delegates that have previously registered for the conference will receive a follow-up communication regarding your registration refund.

Be on the lookout in the coming weeks for special GlobalChem activities.
